The Virgilian Tradition: Book History And The History Of Reading In Early Modern Europe

Craig Kallendorf

Volume II looks at the university in Early Modern Europe, and attempts to situate the universities in their social and political context throughout the three centuries spanning the period 1500 to 1800. This is the second volume of a four-part History of the University in Europe, written by an international team of authors under the general editorship of Professor Walter Ruegg. It covers the development of the university in Europe (east and west) from its origins to the present day, focusing not on the history of individual institutions, nor on the universities in any individual country, but on a number of major themes viewed from a European perspective.
